CampusInbox - label check sheet (Kareena)

Each item is a real, public Enron email (2000-2002). For each, say which calendar date is the DEADLINE: a date by which someone must DO something (reply, submit, send, pay). Relative dates ('Friday') are counted from the mail's date shown. A plain event or meeting date is NOT a deadline unless something must be done by it. Answer with the item number and one of: D yyyy-mm-dd (the deadline date), N (no deadline), X (several/unclear dates). Example: 1 D 2001-05-09, 2 N, 3 X. If an item is too long to judge, answer ? and skip it. About 50 items; there are no trick items. You do not see what the AI labellers said.

Dear Mike and John,

Not sure to which of you I should have addressed this email since you are both listed as doing liquid fuels. If I am wrong and it is neither of you would be really grateful if you could pass this email to the right EGM lawyer ASAP (with a copy to me so I know with whom to follow up).

I am attaching a number of documents.

(i) The first is an internal memo re two new products Enron Japan wants to put on EOL. The Enron CP will be ENA which is why I need your help before going to Mark. The memo describes the product generally and how it will work (and sets out the background as to why EJ is pushing this initiative). This is FYI only.

(ii) & (iii) These are the draft product descriptions and GTCs and we need ENA legal sign off re same. If you are happy with these then I will pass to Mark Taylor for final approval. If you have any questions, please let me know. We are hoping to get this approved by Wednesday Tokyo time so if this needs to be passed on, I would be grateful if you could do this today (your time).

RE product Descriptions - in addition to those changes which were needed to reflect the fact that the products are in yen and KL (and not in USD and Barrels) , we have used upper case for Business Days (because it is defined in the GTCs and the definition is important because it will not refer to Japanese holidays) and I have incorporated a new definition "the relevant Scheduled Trading Date" so that in accordance with what I understand to be standard EOL procedure, the top half of the product description can be the same for both products (despite the fact that the currency exchange will be done 3 days after a different date in the case of the two definitions) and only the bottom half will need to change.

I have actually only made o ...

5. Mail date: 2000-12-15 (Friday) Subject: Re: FW: FW: Enfolio Contract with CPS

Christian,
I believe this is covered because the language states that if the 25th is not a Business Day, the payment will be due the next Business Day. Business Day is a defined term as a day when the Federal Reserve Banks is New York are open for business. I cannot agree to a Customer's Business Day because it is not a defined term and may differ from the standard definition of Business Day.
Therefore that change should not be incorporated. Do you agree?

Mr. Hyvl,

There was one change that you did not make that I requested. It was difficult to tell since only a single word was bolded.

APPENDIX "1" FINANCIAL MATTERS BILLING, INVOICE DATE, CHARGES AND PAYMENT

"Buyer shall remit any amounts due on the 25th day of the Month in which Seller's statement was received. If the due date for any payment to be made under this Agreement is not a Customer's Business Day, the due date for such payment shall be the following Customer's Business Day."

There are very few instances where our Business Day would be different from your business day. However, as an example, the day after Thanksgiving is a CPS holiday. This year, we had a gas payment due on that date which we sent on the following Monday. This is probably the only holiday CPS has that your company may not have.

Crash and burn
Louisville courtship of Rockets in jeopardy

June 13, 2000 1:42 p.m. ET

Associated Press

HOUSTON ■* The bid by Louisville, Ky., to land the Houston Rockets appears to have fallen through.
Jefferson County in Kentucky on Monday declined to join a three-pronged proposal that would publicly finance a downtown basketball arena.

The plan suggested the city, county and state each issue up to $30 million in bonds to cover a portion of an arena that could cost $220 million.

The arena would be built to attract the Rockets or another professional basketball team.

Team officials visited with Louisville business and government leaders last month. The Rockets have also been in negotiations with Baltimore, New Orleans and St. Louis, but Louisville was the only city to publicly court the team.

City officials wanted to submit a proposal to the Rockets by Tuesday, but the county indicated it wasn't ready to participate in the plan, the Houston Chronicle reported Tuesday.

"Please do not issue any statements of commitment, or send a memorandum of understanding at this time on behalf of the county," Jefferson County Judge/Executive Rebecca Jackson wrote in a letter that was delivered to Louisville Mayor David Armstrong.

The letter, dated Monday, was also signed by the county's three commissioners.

The Rockets declined comment on the development, but denied ever giving Louisville attorney J. Bruce Miller a deadline to submit a proposal.

Meanwhile Monday, about 35 protesters chanted "don't pick our pockets to pay for the Rockets!" in front of the county courthouse in Louisville to protest spending public money on an arena.

The Rockets have been considering a move since November, when voters in Houston rejected a plan to build them a $160 million arena ...

Kern will want to file this application ASAP - sometime in April.

I notice that the language below does not address our need to have a call on the capacity if the sale falls through. Due to the high level of exposure surrounding this capacity, I don't think the language set forth below deals with all of the issues.

The Japanese government supported satellite network, NHK TV, has requested the opportunity to interview you for a special series they are producing, which has been tentatively entitled "America Week - Why the U.S. Economy Remains So Strong." The series is expected to air on October 2 - 6 on NHK's BS1 satellite channel to an audience of approximately 10 million. The series will focus on innovative U.S. companies that are taking the lead in various segments of the favorable new economy. In addition to Enron, they intend to cover firms such as Cisco Systems, Palm Inc. and AOL.

We have arranged for them to interview you from 9:00 until 10:00 a.m. on Monday, September 18. We will have them set up and conduct the interview in the board room. If you agree and time permits, they also would like to briefly film you in your office and in a meeting setting, which we could stage in the board room.

In the interview, the reporters will want you to explain how Enron has successfully changed from an old economy to a new economy company. They will be interested to know what enabled such dramatic change and how Enron has achieved such success in B2B, broadband, energy services and merchant activities. They also would appreciate your thoughts on how these models may apply in Japan, as well as your evaluation of the Japanese market and our general business strategy for the market.

By tomorrow, we will forward a tentative list of questions from the NHK reporters. In addition, Joe Hirl and his group are preparing briefing materials on the Japanese market and Enron Japan, which will be faxed to you over the weekend.

26. Mail date: 2001-10-25 (Thursday) Subject: Enron Net Works and Enron Global Strategic Sourcing announce new procedure for using 800-97-Enron telephone number

As you know, Enron Net Works (ENW) and Enron Global Strategic Sourcing (GSS) recently executed a two-year agreement, whereby MCI WorldCom would serve as Enron's primary telecommunications provider. In our previous communication, we indicated that we would provide you with more detailed information as it became available.

Beginning Friday, October 26, 2001 at 9 a.m. C.S.T, the procedure for calling Enron's Houston offices from international locations, excluding Canada, using the 800-97-Enron phone number will change. The new procedure is as follows:

1. Please dial the WorldPhone International Access number for the country where you are located (country access code), which is available on the attached wallet card, accessible through the following link: http://home.enron.com:84/messaging/mciannouncement.doc.
2. You will then be prompted for your PIN number. Since calling cards and pin numbers are not required to use this service, all users should respond by dialing 1-800-97-ENRON or 1-800-973-6766.
3. You will then be asked to enter your destination. Please dial 0-800-97-Enron (800-973-6766) to reach Enron's corporate offices in Houston.

This procedure can only be used to call 800-97-Enron from WorldPhone International locations. If you are calling from the U. S. or Canada, please continue to dial 1-800-97-ENRON.

If you have questions regarding commercial aspects of this agreement, please feel free to contact Tom Moore, GSS senior contract manager at 713-345-5552. For technical issues, please contact Hasan Imam, ENW IT manager at 713-345-8525.

Here is a first cut at valuing the Grant's non firm power from Priest Rapid and Wanapum hydro projects. We assumed a term from 1/1/02 - 10/31/05. We assumed a price curve of Mid Columbia (thus we have included no transmission costs). Enron also assumed a payment to Grant due on 1/1/02. The last important assumption is how to value any "negative firm" power (defined as a situation in which Grant's non firm power in one month is lower than the critical year monthly figure). In this situation we carried over the negative water volume to the next month and net is against positive volumes.

The total value to nonfirm power using the above assumptions is approximately $68 million. If Grant is interested in a $15 million lump sum then Enron would assume a 22% stake in the non firm hydro stream.

Briefly I would like to explain our methodology for valuing the hydro. We took the hydro raw data from Grant on the two projects and also used the critical year assumption. In addition we created a curve to reflect the impact of water to power prices (ie the greater the water volume the lower the power prices). We then ran a number of simulations to create a distribution that describes the range of output values.

Jeff I look forward to speaking with you about this in more detail. You can reach me at 503-464-3810. As I mentioned I will be out this week from Tuesday to Friday.

Project OZ

The deal team is proceeding post-haste to draft a definitive term sheet.

Bjorn - you're correct - term is now 8 years likely to be 10

$40 million working capital facility - advance rate will exceed market - i.e. a portion of this is really equity

crack spreads - will be widened (still fine tuning)

Minimum investment case - Morgan Stanley bridge, refinery cash flow to supply capex for Tier 2 upgrades, current volumes

After closing, to continue investigating expansion (max capex case) with [option] to hedge larger volumes (?- what if we don't agree with expansion plans)

RAC draft DASH with deal team's comments expected back this afternoon - will circulate promised model by EOD tomorrow

anticipate that deal team will try to get approval delegation at the next BOD meeting (about ten days to get thru RAC process)

The New Year has arrived and we really to finalize a lot of the work with regards to moving into NETCO. Obviously we still do not have a deal but the deadline is approaching and preparations need to be finalized.

The main areas to focus on over the next week are:-

(i) Re-start/Integration Plans (due on Jan 7) To be forwarded to Louise
These plans need to be detailed and show clear detailed timelines and detailed responsibilities for getting us up and running as soon as possible.
The current restart date is January 21, 2001 but may be pushed forward to January 14, 2002.
(ii) Budget (due Jan 3, 2002) To be forwarded to Faith Killen
First year budget to include all start up costs (some of which can be amortized)
(iii) Seating Plans Tammy Shepperd to co-ordinate
We need to start the planning process for seating as we will be living on floors 5 & 6 of the Enron South building. I have asked Tammy Shepperd to commence the seating plan and we would look to start the moves as soon as possible but with a large number occuring around January 11,2002.

(iv) Due Diligence
We continue the process with two new companies this week (Wednesday and Thursday). Andy Zipper is taking the lead for the company arriving on Wednesday, please help him with his requirements.

I would ask that both John and I are notified of any changes to the Netco personnel list on a timely fashion and that the list is maintained on a continual basis. Please forward all alterations to Jeanie Slone who has responsibility for the master list.

Communication - I believe that the New Year combined with a internal communication issues may be a good time to review what we want to say on Netco and what our policies are. I am asking David Oxley to co-ordinate with all of you on this. I kno ...

FYI

Copyright ? The McGraw-Hill Companies, 2000

Electricity competition in Nevada may be delayed beyond the November start date mandated by a July settlement agreement between the state utilities, the Public Utilities Commission and major end-users. Although definitive between the parties, the agreement remains subject to the approval of Gov. Kenny Guinn, who has not designated when competition will begin.

According to his press spokesman, Guin will decide when to start competition no later than the end of September, and that decision will be heavily based on a review of the industry he recently requested of the PUC. Quinn suspended competition in March when it became clear the industry's computer infrastructure could not support a robust competitive market.

If Quinn declines to open the market according to the July settlement, the issue will likely roll over to the 2001 legislature, where efforts to delay competition even longer will likely be made.

Sierra Pacific Resources said it is largely ready for competition to begin, although a functional ISO is not formed. Instead, the utility, which is the holding company for both Nevada Power Co. and its sister company Sierra Pacific Power, will use a "glass house system." Under that system the utilities will bring in outside consultants to monitor the operation of the transmission system for fairness and other factors.

50. Mail date: 2001-05-10 (Thursday) Subject: RSVP REQUESTED - Emissions Strategy Meeting....

Due to some problems with my email yesterday, I may not have received your RSVP.....please excuse any confusion this may have caused.

RSVP REQUESTED!

The Environmental Strategies Group will convene an "Emissions Strategy Meeting" on Friday, May 18 to discuss global emissions issues -- such as air quality regulation, climate change and U.S. multipollutant legislation -- and explore some of the potential business opportunities for Enron commercial groups.

WHEN: Friday, May 18
TIME: 10:00 am - 3:00 pm - lunch will be provided
WHERE: Enron Building, 8C1 (8th floor)

A video conference is being organized to enable broad participation from the London office and a teleconference will be set up for others who would like to call in.

The primary objectives of the session are to 1) provide you with the latest information on emissions regulation, markets, and Enron's advocacy efforts worldwide and 2) receive feedback on your commercial interests and input on policy options so that we may develop the best business and policy strategies for Enron in both the short and long term. We invite you or a member of your group to participate in this important strategic discussion.

Please RSVP as soon as possible and let us know if you plan to participate in person, via teleconference or via video conference from the London office.

An agenda is forthcoming. If you have any questions or suggestions in advance of the meeting, please do not hesitate to contact me or Jeff Keeler.

We look forward to your participation.
